1	AIDS CONCERN	AIDS Concern was established in 1990 as the first non-government charity organisation committed to the service of AIDS care in Hong Kong. The founders were a group of volunteers from different backgrounds dedicated to improving the living standards for people living with HIV; and to stop the spread of HIV. We strongly believe that the key to effectively stop the spread of HIV is establishing close communication with communities most vulnerable to transmission and exposure. According to our experience, one of the biggest challenges to our mission is the social stigma and discrimination that people living with HIV face, which directly affects their treatments and quality of life. Hence, we invest our resources into providing public health education and awareness programs to create a more supportive society by eliminating misunderstandings about HIV/AIDS. We can give a helping hand to people most in need if we have an open society which supports early testing and treatment.	https://aidsconcern.org.hk/en
2	Arts with the Disabled Association Hong Kong	Arts with the Disabled Association Hong Kong (ADA) set up an all-rounded arts accessibility service centre in 2011. We aim to provide arts accessibility services and consultation to different arts and cultural organizations/ venues so that the local art scene can reach a more diverse audience including elderly, children and persons with disabilities, etc. The Centre is the base location of our one-stop arts accessibility service. Our arts accessibility consultants are happy to help you plan a complete and quality arts accessibility service for your event. Their professional knowledge is available to help our clients and accessible partners in solving issues related to accessibility. Furthermore, to ensure our service is appropriate and helpful to persons with different abilities, we have invited some persons with different abilities to be our advisors and engaged them regularly in giving advice and evaluating our service. Other than that, we also work with various rehabilitation organizations and formed a strategic partnership with them so that more persons with different abilities can partake in and enjoy accessible programmes.	https://www.jcaasc.hk/
